

Pressure Care Training & Product In-Service with Novis Healthcare

Presenter: Mark Grayson

Novis Healthcare is an Australian owned and operated importer & manufacturer of healthcare products for aged care, home care and the disabled.

They specialize in pressure care solutions of the highest quality at very competitive pricing. Part of their success is the willingness to investigate the needs of the Australian market place and develop products to fill the needs of the Health equipment sector.

Novis Healthcare is linked closely with SHL for a majority of products in our alternating range and all our patient lifting slings. The SHL manufacturing processes are amongst the worlds' best and together with a cooperative supply channel we ensure our customers have on time delivery.

The Lifehealthcare Ultimate 75, 125, 200 & 225 Alternating Mattress Overlays are part of the Novis range which will be featured and in-serviced as part of this training day. We will also feature the Sentec high-end Mattress option.

Presenter: Mark Grayson (Regional Business Development Manager)

A background with a variety of experience ranging from establishment and Management of various businesses to his current position which he has held for the last 5 years.

At Novis he provides support to resellers and their customers helping them understand how alternating pressure systems function and in what applications do their use promote better health. He often conducts educational presentations across Australia and New Zealand.
